

25 SENATORS TO BE CHOSEN

By State Legislatures That Will Be Elected Tomorrow.

ALREADY FIVE HAVE BEEN NAMED

Meaning That Terms Of Thirty Members Of Upper House At Washington Expire Next March-- Other Political Gossip.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—It would not surprise many close observers of politics if tomorrow's elections would result in a considerable change in the personnel of the United States senate. The terms of thirty senators, fifteen of whom are republicans and fifteen democrats, will expire next March. With the exception of the one or two states that have already held their elections this year, the new senators will be chosen by the legislatures to be elected tomorrow.

The thirty senators whose terms will expire in March are: Francis E. Warren of Wyoming; George P. Wetmore of Rhode Island; Russell A. Alger of Michigan; J. Frank Allee of Delaware; F. M. Simmons of North Carolina; Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina; Augustus O. Bacon of Georgia; Joseph W. Bailey of Texas; Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado; J. W. Benson of Kansas; James H. Barry of Arkansas; Joseph C. Nelson of Kentucky; Knute Nelson of Minnesota; Henry E. Burnham of New Hampshire; John T. Morgan of Alabama; Edward W. Carnack of Tennessee; William A. Clark of Montana; W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts; Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska; Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois; Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa; John F. Dryden of New Jersey; Fred T. Dubois of Idaho; Stephen B. Eldkins of West Virginia; Thomas S. Martin of Louisiana; William P. Frye of Maine; Robert J. Gamble of South Dakota; John M. Gearn of Oregon; and Anselm J. McLaurin of Mississippi.

In Kentucky, Louisiana and Mississippi, the legislatures already have elected Judge Paynter, succeeding Senator Blackburn, in Kentucky and Senator Foster, and McLaurin being chosen to succeed themselves in Louisiana and Mississippi, respectively. Maine elected its legislature last month, and the return of Senator Frye is assured. Oregon this summer elected a republican legislature, which means that a republican senator will be named to succeed Senator Gearn, a democrat, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Mitchell. This leaves twenty-five states in which the results depend on the elections tomorrow.

Senator Bailey of Texas was almost unanimously endorsed for reelection at the recent state primary, but during the past few weeks the revelations connecting the senator rather intimately with the Standard Oil company as an attorney have stirred up politics in the Lone Star state as they have not been stirred up in a long while. A hot fight is being waged to defeat Senator Bailey when the legislature meets in January. The senator's friends, however, appear confident that he will win out.

Michigan will choose a republican legislature that will have the selection of a successor to Senator Alger, who has decided to retire on account of advanced age and poor health. Five aspirants are after his toga.

In Delaware Senator Allee is opposed, apparently, by everybody, but that senator asserts that the legislature will re-elect him and the probabilities are that he is right in his prediction. The vacancy that has existed in the state so long was recently filled by the election of Mr. Dupont, and little Delaware will again

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF RAILWAY CLERK

Caught Between Wagon and Freight Car and Sustained Only Severe Bruises of Flesh.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 5.—Lillis Cunningham is confined to his home here with severe bruises of the flesh about his body, and believing that his escape from death Saturday night was truly miraculous. He is employed as a clerk at the St. Paul freight depot and was acting as flagman on the State street crossing while a freight car was being switched. He gave the "all right" signal to a teamster when the train was at a standstill, but as the wagon came onto the tracks the cars were suddenly backed up. Cunningham was caught between a car and the wagon and the latter was almost completely demolished. He was taken home and thought to be dying, but a medical examination revealed the fact that no bones were broken and it is not thought he sustained internal injuries.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—John A. Penton, president of the Penton Publishing company, today purchased a supply of 38 caliber revolvers which he gave to his non-union employees with instructions to use the weapons if they were molested by pickets of the typographical union. Penton wrote letters to the mayor, chief of police and judges of police court, telling them of the intention to arm his men. Penton declares his employees have been repeatedly insulted and assaulted by pickets.

"ON TO ILLINOIS" IS CRY FROM TRAINING QUARTERS

Defeat Of Iowa Saturday Encourages Wisconsin--"Something Really New" Concocted By McCarthy And Hutchins.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—"On to Illinois!" This is the slogan that rang out from the University of Wisconsin football training quarters when the defeat of Iowa was chalked up on the season's score board. Now that the badgers have safely and with triumph passed through the "yellow peril" as the wearers of corn-colored sweaters from Iowa City were called, all efforts will be devoted to preparing the team for the hard game with Illinois at Urbana next Saturday. This game is even more genuinely feared by Wisconsin than was the Iowa contest, because it will be played away from home, on unfamiliar grounds, and with the hostile environment of bleachers full of opposition rooters. But there are some indications that give strong hope to the badgers. The happy ending of the much-feared Hawkeye tussle has given the team confidence in its ability, and the fact that no injuries of any importance were sustained by Wisconsin players, gives opportunity for three or four good hard days of work at Camp Randall before the team will leave for the Illinois balliwick. Dr. McCarthy, whose "wing shift" play is given credit for the defeat of Iowa, will again assist Coach Hutchins with the team, as will also E. S. Driver and Arne C. Lerum, former badger stars. It is whispered that the four of them have concocted something "really new" in football to be sprung at Urbana, and Driver mentioned that as "too good even to be risked on Iowa." Some new plays and formations have been invented, it is known, that were not used Saturday, not because Illinois scouts were carefully watching the play, but because the new contraptions were not sufficiently well developed and tested out to offer any good results if tried then. While there is seen in the calling in of assistants by Coach Hutchins a kind of acknowledgement on his part that he is not good enough to assume undivided responsibility, this is not the case. He has availed himself of the best football talent available here, and he is being highly praised for accepting assistance and suggestions in good spirit and not showing any little spirit of jealousy. Hutchins says he wants the team here to win, and he wants to use all the old stars to help to this end. A mass meeting will be held Wednesday night to get a big bunch of rooters to go to Urbana and encourage the team Saturday.

SPOONER WILL WIND UP REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

Will Speak In University Gymnasium At Madison Tonight--La Follette's "Dead One" Theory Exploded.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—United States Senator John C. Spooner will close the speaking campaign for the republicans of Wisconsin at a big meeting in the university gymnasium here tomorrow night. Plans are completed to make it a gigantic affair, not only for the general cause of republicanism, but also as a demonstration of the untruth of the idea that had lodged in the minds of some followers of Senator R. M. La Follette that Senator Spooner was a "dead one" in Wisconsin politics. Senator Spooner has been very much alive in the past campaign, although the old stalwart organization of years ago has not been as such identified with the affairs of the party. He has proved that he is much closer to the men who control the party in this state today than in the junior senator who occupied the executive office for five years up to last January. What Senator Spooner will say at the final meeting is not a subject of large interest, except for the possibility that he may speak more plainly and directly of the junior senator than he has yet expressed himself in this campaign. The interest in the meeting centers in the demonstration which will be compared with the many great assemblages that have been gotten up here when La Follette has spoken. It will be the first time that Senator Spooner has closed a republican campaign in this his home city in eleven years, and his fellow townsmen and the students in the university will be out in force.

The normal republican majority of nearly 100,000 in Wisconsin is expected to be somewhat reduced Tuesday as the result of the light vote that will probably be out. The election of one democratic congressman in the sixth district, is conceded, but the republicans claim all the rest. Congressman Babcock in the third district will not have the 12,000 majority he had some six times until two years ago but will be re-elected, most observers say, by a larger margin than he had two years ago, when La Follette ran a democratic, Herman Grothofor, against him.

SKIDOO PROBLEM

A coin collector had an accumulation of pennies. He told his son he would make him a present of the entire lot if he would put them in boxes, the same number in each box.
 There was an odd number of pennies, so that if he put an equal number in each of two boxes there would be one penny left over; in a like manner he figured on 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 boxes, but in every case if he put an equal number in each box there would be one (only one) penny left over. The son saved it up and told his father he thought it impossible to perform the feat. His father replied: "SKIDOO—23 for you." The son then put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes, the same number in each box.
 To make the problem plain: The entire number of pennies was a number, which if divided by any number from 2 to 22 inclusive there will be a remainder of one (only one) penny. The puzzle editor: "PUZZLE EDITOR."

500 new pennies will be given to the person who sends in the most skillfully worded correct solution to the problem. 23 pennies will be given to the five other contestants whose solutions are considered by the judges to be the next most ingenious. Skidoo pins will be given to the other contestants whose solutions are considered unusually cleverly worded out.

The "Skidoo" fever has caught, in fact it is growing hot. Answers to the problem are coming in thick and fast. Figures from a few cents up into the septillions are given as solutions. What do you think is the correct answer? Send answers as often and as many of them as you please. Write on one side of the paper only, in sending your answer and if sealed and mailed use 2c postage.

 Puzzle Editor: Dear Sir—I would like very much to have the 500 pennies so I have tried to solve this problem and I hope I am right. I think I am. If the man's son put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes the same number in each box, there were 253 pennies, therefore if he had 253 pennies he put 11 pennies in each box of 23 boxes he had from you soon.

PAYS A TRIBUTE TO LATE BISHOP

ISAAC LEA NICHOLSON IS THE SUBJECT OF

REV. MR. BOISSIER'S SERMON

Memorial to the Late Head of the Episcopal Diocese at Trinity Church.

Reverend H. C. Boissier, preached the following sermon at Trinity church Sunday morning.
 "We have come together this morning around God's altar in the shadow of a great sorrow and deep personal loss and yet, at the same time, in the light of a great joy and cause for holy thanksgiving; for though our beloved friend and bishop, our chief and true pastor, is dead and gone from our earthly view—and this is grief and pain and sorrow to us—yet rising superior and above this sense of loss, we, as Christian people full of hope, devoutly thank God our Father that He has been pleased to take unto Himself the soul of our beloved friend, and to thus release him from the pains and trials of this world in order that he may carry out his Master's will and work in that unseen world of refreshment of waiting."
 Bishop Nicholson, after a long, painful and tedious illness, is no more and some of us have tenderly laid to rest that beloved form by which and through which we knew him; laid it away in mother earth to await the great and tremendous summons of the last day. He is gone—for a space—and at this we sorrow, because, in this life we shall see him no more; no more shall we see his genial smile nor feel the sympathetic grasp of his hand. Alas! that it is thus. And yet we well know that this lot awaits all of us.

"Bishop Nicholson! How exactly the honored title became him. How much those two words meant to each one of us. Bishop, father, pastor—these were no mere empty sounds when applied to him. How truly a bishop, how tenderly a father, how really a pastor, to all of us. And being this to all of us meant and implied ceaseless and heavy labors, constant traveling night and day, 30,000 and more miles in a year; it meant numberless letters to be written, 40 or more a day and all written by his own hand. It meant sermons to be prepared and preached, over 200 a year; it meant all the official and unofficial work connected with visitations, ordinations and other Episcopal acts; it meant and necessitated being in close touch with all the heavy business responsibilities of the whole diocese; and in large measure to carry, but at least to oversee them. It meant numerous persons to confer with counsel on every conceivable subject to give to all sorts and conditions of people, and yet, and in spite of all these labors, a letter scarcely ever left unswayed for more than three or four days at most, only a week or more, the younger clergy constantly hearing from their bishop, and those living in isolated places receiving almost weekly budgets of papers and magazines from him, addressed by his own hand. When did he find time to do all this? He stole a good deal of it from time which should have been given to rest and recreation. (I have often received letters from the bishop at 11:30 p. m. or evening, and 40 more letters to write, at the head.) When others were resting Bishop Nicholson was oftentimes working and working hard and rapidly. When other men would be smoking or otherwise taking their ease the bishop, with perhaps a splitting headache, to which he was prone, would be preaching, confirming, taking the lead at some social gathering, or sitting up to take a late train or traveling in one. Less than eight years of this kind of work greatly aged him and less than fourteen wore him out. If ever man died in the harness it was he. He always desired to do so and his wish was granted, for even during his last illness and up to four weeks ago he had at his hands, directing it from his sick bed. As recently as Sept. 14 I received a postal card from him written by himself: "Not yours, but you. Spending and being spent for Christ. Was ever holy scripture more applicable to any man than to him? Giving of his means and giving largely; over half his private and official income, as I certainly know, given away, chiefly through his own diocese; and yet, and besides, giving himself absolutely and singleheartedly to the work of his high office, giving away thousands of dollars a year and giving it joyfully and at the same time giving his life's blood to his work. I have often heard people say: 'We see so little of the bishop.' 'How could it be otherwise? Or the bishop will help us with our debt—and he generally did. "But, beloved, is it not a remarkable fact that as little as some saw of the bishop, there were very few who ever met him that did not love and revere him? There must be something truly great about a personality that attracts all people, thus, there must be something other than mere 'charming outward manners' or 'brilliant conversational powers' in a character such as this.

"See him in a roomful of fashionable and cultured people; see him at a parish social; see him shaking hands with you and one hour after a confirmation service see him the center of a group of earnest-faced, keen men on a railroad platform; see him amongst a crowd of children teaching them; leading them; see him in more particular ways, driving out several miles to see a poor 'sectionhand' run over by the cars, but with no other claim on him than that of a fellow-man in trouble, and hear him speaking to that poor fellow in the most beautiful way—or, at my informant, a brother priest, told me, speaking to that poor chap lying there in the most marvellously beautiful way so that I simply listened astounded. Or see him the only one among a whole train full of people troubling to minister to a poor dying negro; who died within a few minutes of his first seeing her, with her head on his breast. And regarding this incident I am going to read you a letter which he wrote me, which is possibly the only one he ever wrote about the incident to one of his clergy. The bishop had made a visitation to my parish, Madison and wished to catch the 11:30 train for Milwaukee. After the service he lay down and I called him in time. The train was a few minutes late, and when it did come, we found that the sleeper a day or two previous had been changed from that train to a later one, passing between two and three a. m. I urged him to wait and return to the rectory and I would see that he caught the late train. 'No,' he said, 'I shall be all right and will get along somehow.' He took the train and was enabled to be of such great help to the poor negro woman. His letter is thus:

"Dear Mr. Boissier: After leaving your last night at the train a strange thing happened. I tell you, as it will no doubt interest you, I found on that train a negro woman apparently dying. As I went through the train (everybody was asleep) I saw she had just had a hemorrhage and was in great pain. I at once sat with her and did all I could to minister to her. She was alone, save with a three-year-old child, and was going from Olympia to her mother's in Long Branch, N. J. I called the conductor, had him telegraph from Kilbourn for a doctor to meet us at Portage. Ten minutes after we left Kilbourn she died, leaning her head on my shoulders. It was a choking to death from the internal hemorrhage. At Portage I got out, took the body, and the child, also all her effects, and put them in charge of the station agent—who was much interested. Fortunately, I had from her the name of her husband in Olympia and her mother in Long Branch. At once we telegraphed them full particulars. I have written them full particulars. They undertaker at Portage took the body in charge and the station agent the effects, trunk, etc. A colored man there gladly took the child, and will care for it until further advice. I got on the next train, passing an hour and a half later, and reached here this morning pretty tired out. But I was glad to be of service; it was a comfort. Hence, I am very glad we did make that special train and no other.

 "O see him among another and entirely different class of people—members of the theatrical profession—of whom he was very fond, although he never was inside a theatre during his life, because he promised his mother he never would enter one. I have met that theatrical people who have told me of various kindnesses rendered them by him whom they learned to love. Theatrical people of this church who had occasion to spend Sunday in Milwaukee invariably went to the cathedral for their services, and because they knew Bishop Nicholson. But true goodness has another side to its character. Bishop Nicholson could be terrible stern when aroused to righteous indignation. But the thing which aroused him was the sin, not the sinner. He felt with sledgehammer blows on the sin, but loved the sinner.

"I could tell you many incidents in his life illustrating this. Then, again, when he knew he was in the right, nothing could shake him from his course. He met the theatrical people in sarcasm—he swept them all aside like grass, and forged right ahead; if others helped him, well and good, but if not, he carried the burden alone—and as a result of this, look at St. Mark's, Philadelphia, or at this diocese, a good man, yes, first of all—a pre-eminent good man, has been at the head of both and because good, therefore, a strong man. Goodness of heart, holiness of life, strength of character—it needed but a short acquaintance with him to find out at least these three beacon marks of his life.

"Valuable and radiant was his life in His Master's service; most precious to us is the inspiration of that life, beloved and tender is his memory. May he rest in peace and may light perpetual shine on him."

am going to read you a letter which he wrote me, which is possibly the only one he ever wrote about the incident to one of his clergy. The bishop had made a visitation to my parish, Madison and wished to catch the 11:30 train for Milwaukee. After the service he lay down and I called him in time. The train was a few minutes late, and when it did come, we found that the sleeper a day or two previous had been changed from that train to a later one, passing between two and three a. m. I urged him to wait and return to the rectory and I would see that he caught the late train. 'No,' he said, 'I shall be all right and will get along somehow.' He took the train and was enabled to be of such great help to the poor negro woman. His letter is thus:

"Dear Mr. Boissier: After leaving your last night at the train a strange thing happened. I tell you, as it will no doubt interest you, I found on that train a negro woman apparently dying. As I went through the train (everybody was asleep) I saw she had just had a hemorrhage and was in great pain. I at once sat with her and did all I could to minister to her. She was alone, save with a three-year-old child, and was going from Olympia to her mother's in Long Branch, N. J. I called the conductor, had him telegraph from Kilbourn for a doctor to meet us at Portage. Ten minutes after we left Kilbourn she died, leaning her head on my shoulders. It was a choking to death from the internal hemorrhage. At Portage I got out, took the body, and the child, also all her effects, and put them in charge of the station agent—who was much interested. Fortunately, I had from her the name of her husband in Olympia and her mother in Long Branch. At once we telegraphed them full particulars. I have written them full particulars. They undertaker at Portage took the body in charge and the station agent the effects, trunk, etc. A colored man there gladly took the child, and will care for it until further advice. I got on the next train, passing an hour and a half later, and reached here this morning pretty tired out. But I was glad to be of service; it was a comfort. Hence, I am very glad we did make that special train and no other.

 "O see him among another and entirely different class of people—members of the theatrical profession—of whom he was very fond, although he never was inside a theatre during his life, because he promised his mother he never would enter one. I have met that theatrical people who have told me of various kindnesses rendered them by him whom they learned to love. Theatrical people of this church who had occasion to spend Sunday in Milwaukee invariably went to the cathedral for their services, and because they knew Bishop Nicholson. But true goodness has another side to its character. Bishop Nicholson could be terrible stern when aroused to righteous indignation. But the thing which aroused him was the sin, not the sinner. He felt with sledgehammer blows on the sin, but loved the sinner.

"I could tell you many incidents in his life illustrating this. Then, again, when he knew he was in the right, nothing could shake him from his course. He met the theatrical people in sarcasm—he swept them all aside like grass, and forged right ahead; if others helped him, well and good, but if not, he carried the burden alone—and as a result of this, look at St. Mark's, Philadelphia, or at this diocese, a good man, yes, first of all—a pre-eminent good man, has been at the head of both and because good, therefore, a strong man. S. H. Dudley, who stands in the front rank of colored comedians will be seen in a new piece this season with the Smart Set. The play is called

(The Black Politician). It is in three acts and will be the next attraction at the Myers Theatre Monday, Nov. 5. "The Black Politician" may be rightly termed a comedy success with music. Besides convulsing the audience with wholesome, relishing laughter it also thrills. The situations are side-splitting and the action is speedy and consistent. As Ezekiah Doo, Mr. Dudley has a role that fits him like a kid glove. He is nothing more than a race track tout in the play, but when requested to pose as a great politician he rises to the situation with all the grace and dignity of an old campaigner. There are innumerable features in this rollicking offering, but to dwell on a few of them would be to deprive the patrons of the Myers Theatre of a genuine treat. If catchy melody, pretty girls, elaborate scenic embellishment, capable singers, dancers, comedians and vaudeville performers, novelties, able stage management, expensive and appropriate costumes are any criterion this incomparable troupe of mirth-provokers are in for a successful engagement.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, November 6, 1866.—Accidents.—On Saturday last a son of Martin Dooey, about 15 years of age, was severely injured having a foot badly crushed.

As boys sometimes do, he rode up to Junction of the Northwestern and Prairie du Chien roads, about two miles east of the city, where he got off and waited the arrival of a train. A freight train came along and in attempting to get on the lost his hold and his foot was caught between the flange of a wheel and the rail and badly mangled. After the accident he got onto the passenger train which came along and was brought home. The wound is a severe one but the sufferer is doing as well as could be expected.

WOMAN IS CHOKED TO DEATH

COMMON LAW HUSBAND PLACED IN THE TOMBS.

Man Who Describes Himself as a Merchant Held to Await Outcome of Coroner's Inquest.

New York, Nov. 5.—Following an autopsy Sunday, a coroner's physician declared that Mrs. Maggie Gordon, who was found dead in her apartment Saturday night, had been choked to death by a heavy hand.

Mrs. Gordon is said to have been longed to a well-known family of Pittsburg, Pa., and since coming here had done considerable charity work on the east side.

The coroner committed to the Tombs without bail, to await the result of the inquest on Friday next, the dead woman's common law husband, Alexander Gordon, 45 years old, who described himself as a merchant.

Gordon made a statement in which he said that his wife had been in unusually good spirits Saturday evening, and that he had stayed in their home with her until half past ten o'clock, when he went out on an errand. Before going he had given her $60, and when he returned half an hour later he said that he found her lying on the bed apparently dead. Of the money the police later found $59 in the house. Gordon said that the two came to this city from Pittsburg only a month ago.

Delegates Dine with Emperor, Berlin, Nov. 5.—Two delegates from each country represented at the International Wireless Telegraph conference, took luncheon with Emperor William Sunday. John I. Waterbury of New York, and Rear Admiral Maney attended.

Panama's Third Anniversary, Colon, Nov. 5.—The third anniversary of the foundation of the republic of Panama continued to be celebrated Sunday. There was a bull baiting and other amusements in the afternoon and fireworks in the evening.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW

We want the people of Janesville and vicinity to know that the most valuable and delicious cod liver preparation known to medicine is Vinol. Vinol contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, but not a drop of the useless, greasy oil to upset the stomach and retard its work; and to this is added peptonate of iron (tonic iron). For this reason Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Janesville, but what Vinol will benefit them at this season of the year.

Vinol creates health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness. Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. Try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Smith Drug Co. NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Janesville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and probably Tuesday; warmer tonight.

Suppose that you should hear today that your chief rival in business had decided to double his usual advertising space in this newspaper hereafter. Would you consider it good news for you? And yet if "too much advertising" is bad for a merchant, why wouldn't it be good news for you?

THE CAMPAIGN CLOSED

The political contest is over and when the ballots are cast tomorrow the verdict of the people will decide the choice of candidates, as well as the principles endorsed by the majority.

It is an off year and only twenty of the states are directly interested in the election; yet in the state of New York the issues are so well defined that they are of national importance, and are so considered by the President and his cabinet.

The success of Hearst in the Empire state would be a menace to the country. Through his independence league and his infamous yellow journals he is attempting to ride rough shod into office, and should he succeed he would aspire to the presidency in 1908.

But he will not succeed, for the people are finding him out and he does not bear close inspection. Some 200 congressmen are to be elected and it is safe to say that the republicans will maintain a good majority in the lower house.

In Iowa and Wisconsin, where the party has been divided on account of factional strife, harmony again prevails, and old-time majorities may be expected. The only discordant element in the Badger state is La Follette and his defeated candidate for governor, and their wings are so badly clipped that they are not considered dangerous.

Senator Spooner has conducted a short, but brilliant, campaign. His earnestness, as well as his loyalty, has made for him a host of friends and he occupies more prominently today than ever before the honorable position of Wisconsin's great statesman.

The responsibility of the election now rests with the voter and no man who appreciates the privileges of American citizenship will neglect the right of franchise.

The republican party represents the only party of stability and tested ability. It has rendered the nation good service, and is in sympathy with the progress of the age. Vote the republican ticket and you will make no mistake.

BE LOYAL TO THE TICKET.

The factional fight within the ranks of the republican party in Wisconsin is over. Senator Spooner in every speech that he has made has emphasized this fact and loyally supported every man on the ticket, knowing that some of these men have been his most bitter enemies.

The senator has also been most emphatic in supporting the primary law, a measure which personally he did not endorse before its passage, yet supporting it today because it is the people's law.

He believes that candidates should abide by the verdict of this law and has no use for independent candidates who were defeated at the primaries. Senator Spooner has set a pace for the republican voters of the state which they will do well to follow. Were he speaking in Janesville he would advise the election of the county ticket from top to bottom and he would take occasion to say a good word for John L. Fisher, the republican candidate for district attorney.

Fisher has a three-cornered fight on his hands. If the democratic nominee was his only opponent there would be no cause for anxiety, but Mr. Blanchard, the defeated candidate at the primaries, seeks to divide the republican votes with him by running on an independent ticket.

The certificate of good character which he circulates has the appearance of a party endorsement and will doubtless influence some votes, yet some of the men who signed it told him at the time that they would not vote for him.

Mr. Fisher is the regular nominee of the party and as such is entitled to every republican vote. The time to contest his claim was at the primaries and not at the polls. Had Mr. Blanchard succeeded at the primaries the same argument would apply to him, but he was defeated by the party then and has no claim to party recognition now.

The verdict of the primary law is the people's verdict and under its provisions Mr. Fisher received the nomination fairly on the republican ticket. The party which nominated him is in duty bound to support him.

The Gazette has no doubt of Mr. Fisher's election, but his majority should rank with the balance of the ticket, and it will if the republicans stand by him as they should.

THE VALUE OF A PRODUCT

The true test of the value of a product is in its accessibility to a market at any season of the year, and at a carrying rate that is not in any sense exorbitant, nor dependent on agreements or combines between carriers, but reasonable to the degree that will allow the carrier his just profit, and which will not compel the shipper to demand a price burdensome, not alone on the consumer, but detrimental to his business, no matter what it may be.

The benefits conferred on trade and commerce by the great railways of the world are not to be minimized. Not only have they had their day, but they will continue to have it. Between the railway and the river there may be competition, but there is no real antagonism; but even though there were antagonism between the two methods of transportation, due regard must be had and paid to both when the trade and commerce of the country have reached a volume that imperatively demands increased facilities for transportation, if the march in advance of all nations is to be continued, the shipper relieved from congestions from which there seems, at times, to be no deliverance, and if the consumer is not to be taxed beyond his strength to bear.

The improved inland waterway and the improved harbor offer the one true solution of the problem of transportation, not alone in accessibility to market, but to relief from distressing and continued congestions and car shortages, from which all branches of trade and commerce are now suffering intensely, but in the regulation of charges for transportation, bringing them down to a reasonable, fair and just basis, and automatically regulating freight tariffs. Not so much to meet the demand of trade and commerce for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the United States, but rather because the demand has grown to imperative degree, the National Rivers and Harbors congress was organized, embracing in its membership associations, organizations and individuals from every state in the union, and pledged to but one object—the placing of the rivers and harbors bill upon a plane with other annual governmental appropriations, making it regular, and in amount commensurate with its great importance to the commercial, industrial, agricultural, mining and general economic welfare of the United States.

The third annual congress will convene in Washington on Thursday and Friday, December 6 and 7, at the Arlington hotel. No section of the United States should be unrepresented, for the importance of the work can not be overestimated.

Nothing but a new party with La Follette at the head of it will satisfy the erratic senator. He has made an exhibition of himself in the campaign just closed which keeps his friends guessing as to his political identity.

The memory of McKinley is a sacred memory and the events of the past week called it back most vividly. Many people had forgotten "Hearst's American" in connection with the tragedy, but not so today. The man and his yellow methods deserve retribution, and the people of New York will not be slow in according it.

The candidates of Hearst Independence League in Chicago are so badly demoralized that they have nothing to say. Root's speech knocked out the last prop and the league is on the verge of nervous prostration.

If New York elects Hearst tomorrow many people will be impressed with the notion that the state is not capable of self-government. The election of Hearst would be a disgrace to the state and the nation.

Tomorrow is election day. Don't fail to vote.

The right of franchise is a sacred right, and should be exercised by every intelligent American voter.

PRESS COMMENT.

Annoying.
Superior Telegram: Col. Angur has been sent to subdue the rebellious utes. Doubtless they will consider him a bore.

Tough Time For Sainly One.
Milwaukee News: It seems there is only one man left Bunco Bob can trust—Leuroot—but the people would not trust him: The saintly Bob is having a tough time.

Talk That Counts.
Eau Claire Leader: Senator Spooner is putting in an all-fired busy week, and appears to be saying a good deal. It seems as though it was up to someone else to say something or back up a little.

A Comparison of Thirsts.
Sheboygan Journal: Fond du Lac has 105 saloons and 13,000 population. Sheboygan has 110 saloons and 23,000 population. By a simple problem in division you can find how much drier the average throat is in Sheboygan than it is in Fond du Lac.

Comforting John—In Advance.
Madison Journal: John Asylward need not be downcast if he loses next Tuesday. He is a good lawyer and would make a strong editor. In fact his amateur editorial work between trains, as reflected in his organ, reveals a field in which he could be quite interesting.

Afraid of the Spankings.
Green Bay Gazette: The Lawrence university students who were suspended until they had paid for damages done in a frolic have come to time and paid the money. Of course they preferred that to going home and getting the spankings they knew were coming to them when "dad" got hold of them.

After Many Years.
El Paso Herald: Those who are interested in the higher education will be delighted to know that there has been an increase in the salaries of the professors at that university. In the evolution of the world, the time may come when a college professor may earn as much money as a third rate baseball player.

One Warm Political Campaign.
Superior Telegram: Apparently the political campaign is hotter down at La Crosse than it is up this way. The voters, after their day's work is done, get together to argue politics and fight about the merits and lack of merit of the candidates. The other night at a knock-down-and-drag-out political festival in that city more blood was shed than usual, and the La Crosse Chronicle mentions one of the fellows whose features were disarranged during the fracas as a "political Judas who got mauled because he is a reckless slanderer."

This is pretty cold comfort for a fellow who has a broken nose and a freckled countenance, but the Chronicle adds:

"The attempt to charge an impudent meddler's black eye to the republican campaign managers met with a roar of derision in La Crosse that will reach the ears of the whole county."

Good News For Post Cards Collectors.
Chicago Record-Herald: The picture postcard has proved to be not only a joy to the millions, but an important source of profit to the postoffice department. The cards are easy to handle and do not increase the expenses of postoffice administration in proportion to the revenue they bring in. Because of their financial value, which has seemed worth stimulating, the postcards have succeeded in securing a bit of favoritism from the government which no other mail matter has obtained. Before long it will be permissible to write messages on the address side of the cards as well as on the picture side.

Probably hundreds of thousands of persons in America alone, and certainly millions if all the world is included, are picture postcard collectors. A postcard without a message from the sender is but half of a pleasure, but a message across the picture or even beneath it or at one side is regarded by the collector as the right thing in the wrong place.

When the new arrangement takes effect the sender may use the left half of the front of the card for his written message, and all of the blessings will be neatly delivered to the receiver without any of the evils.

FIGHTING BIG FIRE IN THE COAL MINES

Hereafter the breaker-boys will constitute a new and effective obstacle to fires in coal mines. The Delaware & Hudson company has recently organized at their colliery No. 5 in East End, Pennsylvania, a fire fighting brigade composed of the breaker-boys employed at the colliery. The fire company is regularly officered and is being thoroughly drilled. The boys being paid extra by the coal company for all the time they spend in practice drills. The boys are greatly interested in the new work. They have responded with unusual quickness to several test alarms of fire, and the officials of the coal company are much pleased with the result of the experiment.

The coal company maintains a fire brigade of its own, composed of outside hands, at nearly all its collieries. The mine officials believe that the breaker-boys, by reason of their daring and greater agility, will make better fire fighters than the older men, and will be an effective aid to the company's efforts to remove the fire danger from coal mines.

battle of the ballots in Kentucky is of more than usual interest, not because of the congressional elections, but because of the primary election to choose a successor to Senator McCleary, whose term will expire March 3, 1909. Mr. McCleary is himself a candidate, as is Governor Beckham. This is the first trial of the primary system in Kentucky. The same primary election will name the candidates for governor and other state officers, although their election will not take place this year. Gen. N. B. Hays, the present attorney general of the state, and S. W. Hager, the present state auditor, are the rival candidates for governor. In the congressional districts some pretty contests are on. The Eleventh district is the only one that the democrats concede to the republicans. In addition to that the Third, Fifth and Ninth districts are looked upon as doubtful.

In Oklahoma.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 5.—Oklahoma and Indian Territory will tomorrow elect delegates to the constitutional convention, which is to convene Nov. 20. The constitutional convention will have many heavy responsibilities and duties to perform and the election of delegates has stirred up the keenest interest throughout the new state. Prohibition, the control of corporations, taxation and numerous other important issues figure in the contest.

In New Mexico.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 5.—In addition to the county and legislative elections tomorrow New Mexico and Arizona are to vote on the question of joint statehood. It is practically certain that the statehood proposition will be carried almost unanimously in New Mexico. Should Arizona vote against joint statehood, New Mexico in all probability will go ahead and draft a constitution, which will be submitted to congress this winter, together with a plea for the admission of New Mexico as a state.

Hooiers by Machine.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—Indiana is going to give the voting machines a thorough test at tomorrow's election. Six counties have been equipped with voting machines and if the machines do the work claimed for them it should be possible to tell the result of the election by 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Two hundred and eighty-six machines will be used. The tabulated returns will be telephoned to state headquarters in this city, and the voting machine men think that the complete returns from the six counties should be received here within a half hour after the polls close. If the trial proves successful it is probable that every county of Indiana will adopt the machines before the next state election two years hence. Among the cities in which the machines will be given a trial are Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Evansville, Muncie and Crawfordsville.

Washington Exodus
Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Outgoing trains today carried hundreds of officials and department clerks who will tomorrow vote at their respective homes. The senate bill passed by congress did not interfere in the customary grant of special leave to voters who desired to visit their respective states to participate in the elections. The usual rate of one fare and third was granted by the railroads, with the usual thirty days' time. President Roosevelt leaves for Oyster Bay early tomorrow morning, where he will cast his ballot for Charles E. Hughes, and the remainder of the republican ticket. Then he will hurry back to Washington to complete preparations for his Panama trip.

Clerks living in distant points in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Kentucky, and other states where there are elections, have practically all gone away. Only those who can reach their voting places from this city tomorrow and those who have no vote or whose states have no important elections tomorrow remain.

In Illinois.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Chairman Boeschstein of the democratic state central committee today claims the democrats will carry Cook county on Tuesday by ten thousand votes and will gain six to eight congressmen. State Chairman West asserts the republicans will have a plurality of at least thirty-five thousand in Cook county. He allows the democrats one congressman in addition to one they already have in the twentieth district. It is admitted generally the legislature will elect a republican successor to Senator Cullom.

In Milwaukee.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—All the political parties have arranged for the winding up of their campaign throughout the state tonight.

In Iowa.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 5.—Iowa will go republican by fifty thousand plurality, according to the estimates and predictions of the republican central committee and go democratic by a plurality of between twenty thousand and thirty thousand, according to the democratic estimates. Between twenty-five thousand and forty thousand republican is the conservative estimate. There is little possibility of the democrats getting a majority in either branch of the legislature.

In New York.
New York, Nov. 5.—Today will witness the closing scenes in one of the most remarkable political campaigns in the history of the Empire state. What the outcome of tomorrow's battle of ballots will be cannot be forecasted with any certainty. The old-time methods of anticipating the results of elections have been rendered almost useless and the managers of the republican, democratic and independent league campaigns each has announced himself as confident his candidate will have a plurality of at least two hundred thousand votes. Hughes will address seven meetings this afternoon and evening in New York, and Hearst will address three, possibly four meetings tonight.

Roosevelt to Nick.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 5.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth today received the following telegram from President Roosevelt: "If anything is desired from me you print what Root said about my desire in the election of a republican congress and re-print portions of my letter to Congressman Watson."

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT FOR JOHN L. FISHER Candidate for Re-election to the Office of District Attorney.

Janesville, Wis., Oct. 31, 1906.

Mr. John L. Fisher, District Attorney, City.
Dear Sir: Referring to your request for a candid statement of my opinion as to the way you have attended to the duties of the District Attorney's office since your appointment, I desire to say that I have at all times refused to take sides or enter into any contest between candidates for the office and still do so, but I think you are entitled to the statement that, since your appointment, in my judgment, you have devoted your best energies to the office and have performed its duties in a careful and satisfactory manner.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES L. FIFIELD,
Municipal Judge.

Janesville, Wis., Oct. 31, 1906.

We, the undersigned, members of the Bar of Rock County, do hereby state that we are familiar with the duties of the office of District Attorney, for Rock County, and that the present incumbent, John L. Fisher, has since his appointment, on February 1st, 1906, performed the duties of the office in an able, successful and efficient manner; that since his appointment, a Municipal Court has been organized for the City of Beloit, and on the whole, there has been a great deal of business to be attended to, to which he has given nearly all his time and his very best efforts; and we feel that his record entitles him to an election to this important office.

You paid $10 each for your gold crowns. Didn't you? Well, you need not do it in the future. If you will choose Dr. Richards for your dentist. He is placing hundreds of the finest gold crowns possible to be made for just $5 each. You ask, "How can he do it?" Because he is satisfied with a smaller margin of profit. He guarantees these crowns to be the equal of any in quality of gold, in quality of design, in fit and general usefulness. Now who would be so foolish as to part with a tooth for $5.00 if it can be saved for possibly 25 years of good hard service? Dr. Richards can show you crowns set by him 15 years ago which are as good as ever today. Can you ask more than that? And his price isn't $10. It's just $5 each. MRS. HARTNETT WAS SUMMONED SUNDAY

Died in Afternoon at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Isaac Connors--Burial in Watertown.

Mrs. Julia Hartnett died at half-past one o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Isaac F. Connors, 104 Cherry street. There are left to mourn her loss seven children--Mrs. Connors and Mrs. Fred Dixon of Janesville, Miss Martha Hartnett of Chicago, Mrs. Adolph Scheel of Watertown, T. Hartnett of Portage and Joseph and Patrick Hartnett of Spokane, Wash. The body will be shipped to Watertown tomorrow morning at 6:50 o'clock and the funeral services will be held from St. Bernard's church in that city at nine o'clock.

Al. O. Vincent, former hotel manager at Lake Koshkonong, died of pneumonia at his home in Chicago Friday afternoon as the result of a cold contracted three weeks ago while he was attending his wife's funeral at Milton Junction. Deceased was sixty-three years of age. He was born in Rock county and there most of his life was spent. The remains were taken to Milton Junction yesterday and funeral services were held in the afternoon from the S. D. B. church. Prof. E. B. Shaw of Milton College officiating.

Francis M. Lowry, J. C. Kline this morning received a telegram from Knightstown, Ind., announcing the demise of Mrs. Kline's father, Francis M. Lowry. The deceased was seventy-six years of age and had been ill for the past five years. He is survived by a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Kline, both of whom were at his bedside when he passed away. Mr. Kline will leave this evening on the 6:30 train to attend the funeral.

Mrs. William Turnvaugh A telephone message from Racine yesterday morning conveyed the sad tidings of the death at her home in that city of Mrs. William Turnvaugh, formerly Miss Sarah Fish of this city. The deceased was a cousin of Messrs. B. T. C. R. and M. C. Fish of Janesville. The funeral will be held in Racine Tuesday and local relatives are planning to attend.

Miss Lydia Wahl Beloit, Wis., Nov. 5--Miss Lydia Wahl, a teacher in the Wright graded school, died of typhoid pneumonia yesterday. Her home was in Sterling, Ill., and the remains were shipped there for funeral services and burial.

Thomas P. Byrne The funeral of the late Thomas Patrick Byrne was held from St. Mary's church at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. A. Goebel officiating. The pallbearers were Thomas Riley, Edward Riley, T. Gaveny, Joseph Taylor, W. Wilkinson and Bernard Corwin. Interment was in Mount Olivet.

INTERESTING SUITS IN JUSTICE COURTS

One Defendant, It is Alleged, Protests Against Paying for Liquor Sold to Him "After Hours."

In Judge Barle's court today a judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $20.50 and costs was handed down in the action of James Monahan vs. John Costigan, brought to recover rent. In Judge Reeder's court the action of P. J. McKelvey vs. James Lowry to recover for liquors alleged to have been sold to the defendant, was adjourned to Nov. 12. It is understood that the attorney for the defense will attempt to show that the liquor in question was sold "after hours" and that the plaintiff cannot, therefore, recover on the debt. The three actions brought by Mrs. Belle White of Spring Brook to recover board bills of $1 each from J. B. Stephens, Hugh Mason, and Van Hill, members of a section gang, with the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. garnished, were to come up late this afternoon. It is alleged that the three men in question left the boarding-house where they were staying and secured lodging for one night and breakfast at the plaintiff's place, and that they took sudden departure the next morning without settling with the landlady. If they lose their cases the costs alone will amount to $4.50 each.

AYLWARD ADDRESSED GOOD-SIZED CROWD

At the City Hall Assembly Chamber Saturday evening--J. J. Cunningham Spoke in Edgerton.

John A. Aylward of Madison, democratic candidate for governor, addressed a good-sized and enthusiastic audience at the city hall assembly chamber Saturday evening. George G. Sutherland presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. Mr. Aylward devoted considerable time to a comparison of the Peck administration with the republican administrations that succeeded it, in the matter of expense, endeavoring to show that there had been an enormous increase in the cost of running the state government. He reiterated his claim that the people of Wisconsin would pay a state tax this year and that there had never been a time when it was not necessary to levy one. Considerable time was devoted to the regulation and control of public service corporations and the speaker's complimentary reference to William J. Bryan aroused great enthusiasm. J. J. Cunningham, candidate for congress, addressed a large meeting at the Edgerton opera house Saturday night.

"DISTRICT LEADER" SCORED A BIG HIT

Comedy-drama Set to Music With Joseph Howard and Mabel Barrison in Cast Delighted Two Audiences.

"The District Leader," a comedy-drama with a musical setting of unusual brilliance, was given two presentations at the Myers Theatre Saturday. Cordial approval on the part of the spectators of a play, its author and the players has seldom been demonstrated in a number more spontaneous and unmistakable. The evening audience contained not a few who had witnessed the afternoon performance and the last curtain had been rung down several minutes before the applause died away.

Miss Mabel Barrison, frocked in childhood's dainty garb and rollicking through the role of the naive, vivacious little sprite from New Jersey, shared honors with her husband, Joseph Howard, author of the book, music, and several of the lyrics of this production as well as "The Umpire," "Land of Nod," "His Highness, the Bey," "The Isle of Bong Bong," "The Time, the Place, and the Girl," and other familiar musical plays, and appearing in the roles of "Tim and Jim Haloran," Albert Dierker, the bibulous editor from Teaneck and Frank Weed, his betting side-partner; Allan Foster, the reporter; Edward Smith, the comical "Willie," John T. Nicholson, the ruthless political schemer; Vera Hamilton, the woman in the case; Marie Nelson, the unhappy heroine; Dorothy Taylor, Chinese dancer; and a splendid chorus. The beautiful Chinatown scene of Act II, with the colored lights playing on a dazzling array of pretty faces and gorgeous costumes, gives Miss Taylor an opportunity to prove herself a dancer of remarkable grace and attainment. Then comes the weird, not to be forgotten "What's the Use of Dreaming?" song by the opium victim--a splendid bit of acting as well as singing. Elsewhere in the play Mr. Howard's pleasing tenor is heard in "Same Old Story" and other lilting selections which have their lingering appeal.

The thrilling automobile episode, projected by the moving picture machine at the end of the first act, wherein the same actors whom the spectator had been watching a moment before in real life are presented in a harum-scarum ride up long thoroughfares to intercept the hero and upset the plans of his enemies, is a novel innovation.

After the melodrama has come to a happy climax in the last act the musical frolic is resumed. "Best looking best singing chorus we've had here this year"--"Weren't those costumes fine?"--"Those two drunks made a hit with me!"--"Must get the music of that 'Heart to Let' song"--these were some of the comments overheard as the audience broke up Saturday night. "The District Leader" Co. left at four o'clock Sunday morning for Racine where they were booked to give Sunday matinee and evening performances. Manager Walter O. Lindsay has taken the suggestion of a return engagement here in January under consideration.

Attention, Voters.

Many of the voters seem to be of the opinion that a foreigner who has only his first citizenship paper, cannot vote at the coming election. This is a mistake as the recent change in the naturalization law only alters the method and expense of getting out the second papers, and a man who has only his first papers may vote the same as usual.

A Tale of a Faithful Dog.

Organist Pilkington, at Paulsburys, Northamptonshire, England, used to be accompanied every Sunday to the church door by his terrier, which waited patiently until the service was concluded. Six weeks ago the organist died. On each Sunday since then the dog has gone to the church, looked wistfully about, waited until every body had departed and then gone home mournfully.

The Apollo Club.

Members of The Apollo Club will get registered seat checks for the concert to be given at the Opera House next Tuesday night, November 13, by applying at the box office and showing the membership card. Seat sale begins at the box office next Monday morning. Members are not required to apply in person, but the card itself must be presented as the name of the member will be taken and the card punched. This must be done to avoid confusion when checking up the sales. On the night of the concert both the membership card and the seat check must be presented at the door. The by-laws prohibit loans or transfers of membership cards. If a member cannot attend the concert, the seat check must not be given away or sold. No guest cards or free tickets will be issued. All members are alike interested in making this concert pay for itself. The very heavy expense makes it a problem, and the Club treasury should be protected as much as possible. The membership is relied upon to do the bulk of the advertising by urging friends to buy seats. It is believed that this concert will be the most notable musical event in the history of Janesville, and if our citizens give it merited support, other public concerts will follow. It is the ambition of The Apollo Club to make our city the chief musical center of Wisconsin, outside of Milwaukee. Everyone should lend a helping hand.

Thomas Carney, a one time resident of Janesville who has been sojourning in the vicinity of La Crosse, the party who brought Mary Bluing, the Indian woman, to Janesville. He had picked her up on his way here and thought it would be a lark to bring her to Janesville. Thomas was continuing a little celebration yesterday and was brought to the lockup to spend the night. This morning he told the police that he had intended to send Mary home on the morning following her arrival here but that he became interested in testing some fine vintages and forgot all about her. The woman was sent back to Tomah on Saturday.

WORTHY YOUNG MAN.

Able Attorney Who Seeks Office of District Attorney.

Claude J. Hendricks, democratic candidate for District Attorney, was born on a farm in the town of Porter, was duly graduated from the Evansville seminary, and after a course at the university at Madison he entered the law offices of Sutherland & Nolan at Janesville and was duly admitted to the practice of the law in 1897. Mr. Hendricks has been a life long resident of Rock county, and is known for his industry, integrity, and ability as a lawyer, and is now associated in practice with Geo. G. Sutherland.

Mr. Hendricks is a clean, careful and able young attorney against whom nothing can be said, and it elected to the office of District Attorney, will, undoubtedly, conduct the affairs of the office in a manner satisfactory to the citizens and tax payers of the county, and can always be depended upon to do whatever is for the best interests of the county--Adv.

To the Electors of Rock County, Wisconsin:

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK, October 30, 1906.

Information to Voters in Regard to the Election to Be Held on November 6th, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 6th day of November, 1900, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The name of the candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column and the questions submitted to vote are stated below:

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING ON THE VOTING MACHINE: 1st. Close the curtain. 2nd. Pull the Yellow Lever having on it the names of your political party over to the Right until the Bell rings. (This will turn down the Pointers over the names of the candidates in your party.) 3d. If you wish to vote a Straight Party Ticket, leave the Pointers as they are (Down in their voting position). But if you wish to "split" or "scratch," your ticket, turn Up the Pointer from over the name of the candidate in your own party that you wish to cut out, and then turn Down the Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for for that office, and leave it there. 5th. Open the Curtain. NOTE—unless you are sure that you know just how to operate the machine, it would be well for you to practice on some machine before election day.

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go.

This will close the Curtain around you, and unlock the machine for voting.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE THE CURTAIN

HOW TO VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down to a voting position all of the Pointers of the candidates of your party.

The ringing of the bell signifies that the Party Lever has been pulled far enough to unlock the Curtain Lever and engage the registering mechanism.

VOTER PULLING OVER PARTY LEVER.

The turned down Pointers indicate the names of the candidates for whom the vote will be cast.

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go.

This will count your vote, open the Curtain, and set the machine for the next voter.

HOW TO VOTE A SPLIT TICKET

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down to a voting position all of the Pointers of the candidates of your party.

Turn back (up) the Pointer from over the name of the candidate you wish to cut. See illustration below.

And then turn down a Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for for that office. See illustration below.

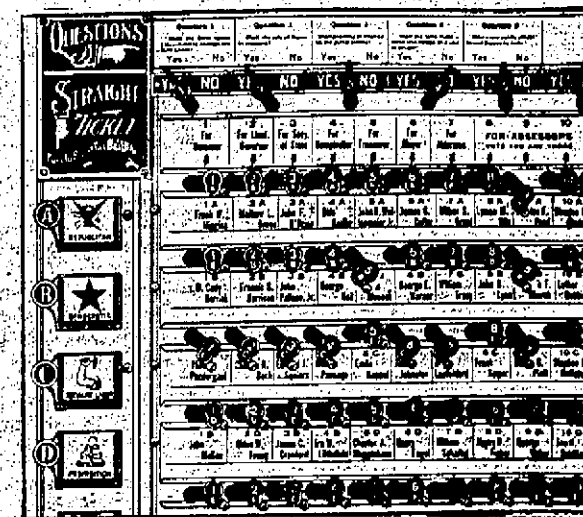

Be sure to complete each Split before making another.
For an office to which two or more candidates are to be elected, the required number of candidates can be voted for and no more, regardless of position.

After the vote is arranged, move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go. This will count one vote for every candidate that has a Pointer left down over his name.

HOW TO VOTE ON QUESTIONS.

To vote Yes, turn the Question Pointer to the word Yes, and leave it there. To vote No, turn the Question Pointer to the word No, and leave it there.

THE ABOVE CUT SHOWS

That the voter has voted Party Lever "C" and then—
Split his vote for Treasurer, on Column 5. ●
That he has voted for Assessors, voting for three on Column 9 (for which office he is permitted to vote for any three candidates on either of the Columns 8, 9, and 10).
That he has voted "Yes" on Questions 1 and 2.
That he has not voted on Questions 3 and 5.
That he has voted "No" on Question 4.
If the voter desires, he ~~can~~ make any further changes while the Curtain remains closed, as the vote is not registered until the Curtain is opened.
The Pointers must be left down over the names to be voted for. If the voter turns them back the vote will not be counted, as the opening of the Curtain turns back the Pointers and counts the vote.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting.

A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter must make a cross (X) mark in the square under the name of each person he desires to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another ballot. Unofficial ballots or memoranda to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, and hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to vote, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter, and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion as to such persons disability. The candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

OFFICIAL BALLOT FOR GENERAL ELECTION

Mark a cross (X) in the squares ☐ under the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote, if it be there, or write any name that you wish to vote for in the proper place.

SAILOR'S EVIDENCE CONVICTS A WOMAN

ALLEGED TO HAVE SOUGHT FOR TIFICATION PLANS.

WAR STUDENT IN PRISON

Man Who Claims to Be Interested in Questions of Armament Generally Found with Important Drawings in His Possession.

Paris, Nov. 5.—Two recent cases of espionage have attracted more or less attention here.

A woman of Toulon, suspected of being a spy in the employ of a foreign power, was convicted last week on the testimony of a sailor, who swore she had tried to bribe him to steal the plans of certain fortifications and submarine vessels.

The other case is that of Gaston Maltreue, an artillery reservist, who was arrested at Meaux for a trifling offense. When searched the firing instructions for the French army and tracings of drawings of the mechanism of siege, field and other guns were found in his possession.

Maltreue claims that he is simply interested in the question of armaments generally, but appearances are against him. His case is still pending as, generally speaking, cases of espionage are not much more numerous to-day than usual.

Arrests of suspects, especially on the German frontier, take place constantly and are exploited by a section of the French press as proof of the warlike designs of Germany.

Deputies to Reassemble

Interest in the reassembling of the chamber of deputies centers in the reading of the ministerial declaration of policy. Premier Clemenceau's statement is very long. It was declared by a good authority to be a great literary effort. The programme for internal reforms to be set forth therein is considered to be the most advanced ever presented in France, and the approval of these reforms is believed to be virtually assured beforehand. In the matter of foreign politics the cabinet is expected to follow the same course as has hitherto been pursued. The premier's statement will conclude with the demand for a vote of confidence from parliament so that the cabinet may effectively carry out its projects.

Wins Success in Opera. Marguerite Silva, an American singer, appeared Sunday night at the Opera Comique in "Cavalleria Rusticana." She was a brilliant success. The house was crowded.

Socialists Stand for Peace.

Lemoges, France, Nov. 5.—After a lengthy discussion Sunday of the subject of anti-militarism, the socialist congress rejected a motion made by Gustave Herve favoring insurrection on the part of conscripts in case of an outbreak of war, and adopted a resolution by M. Vaillant calling on the socialists of all nations to labor for the prevention of warfare by efforts to secure the suppression of permanent armies through legislation.

The public prosecutor has begun suit against La Voix du Peuple and a number of prominent anti-militarists on the charge of insulting the army of France upon the occasion of the incorporation of recruits therein.

NOTED THEOSOPHIST INJURED

Col. Olcott Sustains Serious Hurts in Italian Railway Wreck.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Col. Henry Steele Olcott, of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the theosophical society and coworker in his lifetime of the late Helen F. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received Sunday by a member of the society in this city.

Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital and is "in a bad way," no details are given.

Because of his advanced age fears for his recovery are entertained. Col. Olcott at the time was on his way home to India from Chicago where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, held in that city in September.

Carnegie Institute in Danger

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Fire Sunday threatened the destruction of the Carnegie institute, valued at $6,000,000 and the most beautiful structure of its kind in America. The fire was extinguished after damaging the building to the extent of $10,000.

Gored to Death by Bull. Gallipolis, O., Nov. 5.—Charles D. Bailey, 73 years old, who lived two miles above Gallipolis, was attacked by an enraged bull while crossing a field Sunday, and gored to death. Mr. Bailey was former member of the state board of agriculture.

Do you buy clothes for more than one? If you do, the store ads, now-days should be mighty interesting reading to you.

AMERICAN TROOPS TO MARCH IN CUBA

SOLDIERS TO MAKE PRACTICE TRIPS OVER ISLAND.

QUEER CAUSE OF ARREST

Citizens of United States on Isle of Pines Excited Because Countryman Was Placed in Jail for Chopping Down Tree.

Havana, Nov. 5.—It is the intention of the provisional government to have the American troops here make extensive practice marches throughout the country. This should not be interpreted as a threatening demonstration; the step is taken for its moral effect on the restoration of confidence. In a general order Gen. J. Franklin Bell enjoins all officers and enlisted men of the American army of occupation to manifest all possible courtesy towards Cubans of all parties, and to take no active part in the suppression of disorder, except in extreme emergencies rendering interference for the protection of life and property necessary. The duties of the American forces are, generally speaking, limited to the tendering of good offices for the prevention of friction between conflicting elements.

To Move Leper Hospital.

Upon the recommendation of Carlos Garcia y Yélez, inspector of public institutions, San Lazaro hospital, in which there are several hundred lepers, probably will be shortly removed to an island off the northern coast of Matanzas province. The removal of this hospital has long been desired, but the project has been opposed by the wealthy private corporation by which it is controlled.

American Is Imprisoned.

Americans on the Isle of Pines are excited over the arrest and imprisonment of a countryman named Holmesburg, on the charge of cutting down a tree on the boundary line of his own property. A committee has come from the island to request Gov. Magdon to depose the present mayor and appoint as acting mayor Second Lieut. Robert Tittoni of the marine corps.

There have been rumors for some days past of a projected uprising of moderates in Santiago province, but no importance is attached to them.

Lieutenant Has Yellow Fever. Second Lieut. Noble J. Wiley, of the 10th infantry, whose discovery on board the transport Sumner Saturday with yellow fever caused five hours' delay in the departure of the vessel, has been removed to Animas hospital. His illness was diagnosed as yellow fever of a mild type. Lieut. Wiley boarded the Sumner to go home on leave of absence. He arrived here recently on the transport Tarnholm, and lodged in Havana. He did not visit Camp Columbia.

Political Party Changes Name.

It is probable that the new platform for the old moderate party, presented Saturday by Gen. Luis Rivera, will be adopted at a meeting of the party to be held Monday. A new party name will then be selected, the party having voted unanimously to dissolve.

The Rivera programme is conservative in character; it permits foreigners to vote and extends the presidential term to six years without reelection. These measures will make necessary constitutional amendments.

At Saturday's meeting of the moderates, which was attended by 70 delegates from all parts of the island, the resignations of the executive committee and that of Mendez Capote, president of the party, were accepted.

Japs Did Not Make Sketches.

Manila, Nov. 5.—The story that a Japanese army officer had been placed under arrest here for sketching certain of the fortifications of Manila harbor was denied Sunday by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood. No such arrest has been made, and no Japanese have taken sketches of the fortifications.

French Budget for 1907.

Paris, Nov. 5.—According to a letter from Minister of Finance Caillaux to the chairman of the budget committee, the budget for 1907 shows, in round figures, a revenue of 3,657,000,000 francs, and expenditures amounting to 3,522,000,000 francs, making a deficit of 175,000,000 francs.

IRON AND STEEL EXPORTS

INCREASE OF 25 PER CENT. IN FIRST NINE MONTHS.

Pig Iron and Iron Ore Imports Double 1905 and Five Times Those of 1904.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A bulletin issued by the department of commerce and labor says that exports of iron and steel manufactures show an increase of about 25 per cent. in the nine months ended with September and imports of a similar character show also an increase of practically 25 per cent. in the same period as compared with the same months of the preceding year.

Exports of all domestic products increased about 13 per cent., the bulletin says, and imports about nine per cent.

Pig iron and iron ore imports aggregated over $10,000,000 in the nine months ended with September, against about $5,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1905 and about $2,000,000 in 1904.

Pig tin imports in the nine months of 1906 amounted to over $27,331,500, against $20,700,371 in 1905 and $17,248,294 in 1904. Tin plate exports, the bulletin says, also show a marked increase, the exports in 1906 being 23,794,151 pounds, against 14,562,162 in 1905 and 12,056,068 in 1904.

The growth in operations of iron and steel, the bulletin says, was larger in the nine months ended with September, 1906, than in any corresponding period of our export trade. The gain in these months over the corresponding year was over $24,000,000. Comparing the figures of 1906 with those of a decade earlier, the bulletin says, the exports of iron and steel show a gain of over 270 per cent., while the imports of iron and steel show mean-time an increase of 50 per cent.

Iron and steel exports in the nine months of 1906 were $127,189,673, and iron and steel imports for the same time were $24,376,887.
